

THE POINT

AL-MON-O PA AIRSTREAM CLUB

FROM YOUR PRESIDENT:

I'm energized by the wonderful time had at our August Bluegrass Rally (sans Bluegrass Festival). Many thanks to Denny & Gayle for hosting and to everyone else who helped make this one a real success! I know you'll enjoy reading their excellent article that describes the fun that we had at this rally. What's really exciting to me is the high level of engagement & fun everyone seems to have had at both of our summer rallies. As I ponder why these rallies seem so special, my thoughts come to me in the form of a multiple-choice answer.

- a) Rallies providing a relaxing & safe reprieve from uncertain, isolated & stressful times - a comfortable way to catch up with good friends
- b) Hosts truly going the extra mile to make rallies special & very high quality
- c) Addition of many different kinds of activities to partake with friends
- d) New members feeling comfortable to participate and bringing energy & fresh perspectives
- e) All of the above

Answer: e) All of the above

As we hurtle toward the autumn months, we have creatively modified this year's remaining activities to better suit the pandemic restrictions and concerns that are likely to continue.

SEP: Matt & Cody recently announced that they will be hosting a September 12th outdoor picnic luncheon at the spacious Boltz Shelter in East Brady, rain or shine! We're hoping this luncheon works out for you – it will be great to see everyone and catch up as we move through this tough year.

OCT: Dale & I are looking forward to seeing you on October 3rd as our guests at our home for an outdoor Oktoberfest-themed luncheon. Please check out the flyer in this newsletter for details. And remember...Lederhosen is optional!

DEC: We've changed the venue for our December 5th Holiday Luncheon & Annual Business Meeting from our time-honored room at Rachels Roadhouse to Klingler's heated garage in Hilliards PA, where we will have arrangements for a catered lunch. The decision to move the venue this year was made because of in-restaurant dining uncertainties & potential crowding concerns. We'll plan to have a flyer/coupon in next month's newsletter with all the details. Many thanks to Cody & his parents for making such a kind offer.

Bert & Lia Gough have written a terrific article for this month's newsletter on their recent Pennsylvania camping experiences at Bald Eagle and Ohiopyle State Parks. The article is chock-full of interesting & useful information about exploring the beautiful parks in our own backyard! Thanks for sharing your experiences Bert & Lia.

One of our newest members, Maria Tobin, wrote a heartwarming article for this newsletter that tells the story of her long, long journey that ultimately led her to find "Half Pint" and the Airstream lifestyle. Welcome to AL-MON-O Maria, and thank you for making such a nice contribution within your first month!

This year, it seems, is the year to vote. We received a unanimous vote by our Membership and Board to adopt our amended Constitution, Bylaws & Policies. The WBCCI CBL Committee also reviewed and approved our document, satisfying our 5-year re-chartering obligation. And, we are currently taking an electronic vote to adopt a very meaningful official club logo that we can use widely to proudly identify AL-MON-O. Thank you for all of your support and patience with these administrative processes.

Finally, I'd like to thank Bud & Alice Roberts for volunteering to serve in club leadership roles next year. Bud has volunteered to be our 2nd Vice President and Alice to be a Director. These are very important roles needed to guide AL-MON-O. We are still looking for a volunteer for 3rd Vice President...please consider taking on this role. It's an easy way to make a big difference for AL-MON-O. Thank you.

Please take care & keep your shiny side up!

The Half Pint Adventure

By Maria Tobin

Having grown up in the small town of Apollo PA, my mom always made sure my siblings and I took a summer vacation. My father owned his own business which made it difficult for him to get away. This didn't stop my mom! She would hook up the trailer and off we would go!! My siblings and I were each required to pick a destination and write a book report on it.

Upon arrival at each chosen place, we had to read our book report out loud to everyone, then be the tour guide. My favorite destination by far was Edisto Island, S. C. Even though I am one of eleven children, I was only able to experience these summer adventures with my four youngest siblings, as the older siblings were grown and out of the house. My third oldest sibling who I've never had a chance to travel with as a child, invited me to the 2019 Blue Grass Festival Rally in Somerset, PA. This would not only be my first camping experience with my sister Cindy, but my first experience witnessing the wonderful world of Airstreaming. While sitting around the campfire with these newfound friends, I knew I wanted my own Airstream. Time moved on and I was once again invited to a rally in July 2020. It was wonderful to see those familiar faces once again. After several inquiries about whether or not I'd found an Airstream, someone suggested I take a look at Facebook Airstream Hunter. Low and behold there she was! Located in Georgia. So the Half Pint journey began. My sister Cindy and brother-in-law Doug graciously offered to accompany me on my trip. First in order was to have the electric brake installed on my 4 Runner and purchase the sway bars. Doug was beyond kind in giving me a hitch to complete the package. Georgia here we come! To say we were excited would be an understatement. Over the hills and through the woods of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia we go. Upon arrival, there sat Half Pint in a million dollar house cul-de-sac. She was beautiful. After a 45 minute orientation by the seller, we were off to Top of Georgia Airstream Park. If you haven't been, you should go! We had one of those "never stop smiling" kind of evenings. Dinner was at Cowboys and Angels in Helen, GA, then back to Top of Georgia for a blissful happy hour on the swings in the pavilion.

President: Vinny Rossitto

Half Pint received multiple compliments of how cute she is. I, on the other hand received multiple comments on how difficult it will be to back her up!

In all my Half Pint adventures, I hope I can be as brave and confident as my mom was! And one day, my granddaughter Penny will be writing those book reports and we will be enjoying the Half Pint adventures together. Cindy and Doug, thank you from the bottom of my heart for all the love and support through this journey. I couldn't have done it without you guys!!! And to all the Airstream friends who will surely be helping me and offering advice, I thank you in advance!!

Edisto Island here I come!!

September Picnic Luncheon

Please join us for a picnic luncheon on September 12 at Noon to be held at the Boltz Shelter (1617 PA-268, East Brady, PA 16028) hosted by Cody Klingler and Matt Moore. ## Region 2 News

It is always fun for me to read through the newsletters from our local clubs in Region 2. It is especially interesting these recent months, amid an event that has had such a tremendous impact on our Airstream way of life. While most organized rallies have been cancelled, newsletters show there are still clubs with small, modified events on the calendar. Only the passing of time, and the next newsletter edition, will tell if the event was actually held. But what I have noticed is that quite a few of our restless (and dauntless) Airstreamers are out camping and exploring either “solo” or with perhaps one other couple. Caution and social distancing are the norm in the stories I have read but it is obvious that COVID has not taken all the fun from Airstream travel for these folks. The stories recount simple trips to state parks close to home and some of trips across country and back! Each story and every picture put a smile on my face. It means a lot to me knowing that the spirit of our Airstream members may be stressed by events, but we are not all down and out! Events may have caused changes in our modus operandi, but we are still motivated to get out, explore, and like Wally said... “find out what’s over the next hill and the one after that”. Keep on rolling, Airstreamers!

Time at home has also proven to be a time for many of our club members to take on improvement projects and renovations of their beloved Airstreams. From remodeled bathrooms, new cabinetry, and countertops, to flooring, new upholstery and more! Airstreamers are some of the original and best DIYers! The stories and pictures in the newsletters prove it. What Airstream project have you been working on? Share it with us.

I also enjoy the articles that members write about their earliest camping experiences. Stories about camping with parents or grandparents, how that first pop-up trailer or hard sided trailer came to be theirs. And of course, the first Airstream. Backpackers and tenters graduating to vans outfitted for sleeping or those huge station wagons of the 60s and 70s! Great stories, pictures and memories shared with and within our Airstream family. All great stuff!

HQ reports that registration for the IBT Mid-Winter meeting in Sarasota, FL is open. The dates are set as arriving on site January 18th, 2021 and departing on January 22, 2021. You can find more info and register here Registration for the 64th International Rally in Lebanon, TN is also open and according to HQ is “going great”! That registration can be found here Headquarters reminds us that they are certainly aware that we are still in COVID mode and that the above events are subject to change. Keep your fingers crossed, say your prayers, turn your pj’s inside out or do whatever your “make it come true” ritual is for our 2021 Rallies!

In more news from HQ, the Airstream Club Store has been launched with a link to the Club’s Lands End storefront. There you will be able to purchase all manner of Airstream Club apparel. There will be additional items added to the Club Store in the coming months.

I hope this finds all in our Region safe and well. Kathi joins me in sending our best regards.

Exploring Our Backyard: Bald Eagle and Ohiopyle State Parks

By Bert and Lia Gough

Sitting out the first half of the summer travel season gave us time to think about adapting to these unusual times. We emerged with a plan to explore the Pennsylvania State Parks. After enjoying the well-planned activities and events at the July Al-Mon-O Rally (hosted by Cody and Matt) we ventured onward to the Russell P. Letterman Campground in the 5,900-acre Bald Eagle State Park. This modern campground (many sites have full hookups) is well-groomed and nicely spaced with 97-sites between two loops, one designated for pets. Facilities include warm showers, flush toilets, yurts, and camping cottages. We stayed in the non-pet loop in an electric only site, as our trip was planned too late to land full hookups. Our site, MO32, offered a very private view that was nice compensation for not having full hookups. Like many of the PA State Parks the picnic tables were quite worn.

At Bald Eagle there is a network of 14 miles of hiking trails, which we thoroughly enjoyed, despite the high temperatures and glaring sun. From our campsite, the Swamp Oak Trail provided easy access to the Skyline Drive Trail, the Butterfly Trail, and several other trails, with an option to loop back along barely used park roads. The Swamp Oak Trail leads to a Champion Tree of Pennsylvania, the largest recorded Swamp White Oak growing in the state. Another day we walked to the Woapalanne Trail, which paralleled the lakeshore. We thought this would provide views of the lakeshore, and perhaps some waterfowl, but found that it was too far in from the shore. The Nature's Inn at Bald Eagle is a bed and breakfast on a hill above the lake, and provides a great birding location, with views to the upper canopy of the trees. There is a 1,730-acre lake surrounded by forests, fields, and wetlands for boating, fishing, and swimming at beaches. While many people were enjoying lake activities, we found the trails to be sparsely populated, though we were prepared with masks if needed. Across the lake, the park also has a rustic campground with 35 sites with small parking areas reserved for smaller RVs or tents and some walk in sites.

One reason we selected Bald Eagle State Park was to ride portions of the 62-mile crushed stone Pine Creek Rail Trail, which was rated in the top 10 rail trails in Pennsylvania in 2014 by The Rails-to-Trails Conservancy. The trail runs from north of the Grand Canyon of Pennsylvania to south of the gorge, which was carved by melting glaciers. Long ago the American Indians traversed the gorge and later from 1883 to 1988, rail lines allowed timber, coal and passengers access. The first day we parked at the Jersey Shore Access area at the south terminus of the trail, where they have restrooms, a caboose visitor center (currently closed), and even compressed air to refresh your tires. Mountain bikes/multi-speed cruiser bikes are recommended over narrow tire road bikes, but the surface is solid and smooth in most locations. The trail was flat, very wide, with old stone railroad mile markers, and crossed the Torbert Trestle Bridge about 4 miles in. We turned around at Bonneville Flats area.

On another day we drove to the Darling Run access point and rode south through the Grand Canyon of PA to Tiadaghton. Along the way, we passed homes with interesting solutions to crossing the creek. One had a suspension footbridge from their home to the trail and the other had a 'cable car', a platform suspended from a cable and a rope to propel the passenger across the creek to their cabin. At Tiadaghton there is a beautifully laid out tent camping area for those hikers or bikers who carry gear for overnight. We had a pleasant, quiet lunch at one of those sites. After the ride, we drove along Colton Road on the west rim to canyon overlooks that provide a view of the trail from above. Note, if you drive to this area, it may be a good idea to download your maps in advance, as there was no cell service in the area, so we had to navigate our way back the old-fashioned way.

After 5 days, we moved on to Seven Mountains Wine Cellars, a Harvest Host east of State College. There was road construction along route 322 at the turn off onto the only partially paved Decker Valley Road to the winery. We parked the rig near the office to check in and then looped around their parking lot to their 4-sites located behind their home. These sites included 30-amp electricity which was a well appreciated bonus on a hot summer day and evening. This was a very private area since we were the only ones there. The parking area was a little sloped but we were able to level the trailer. After parking, Bert enjoyed wine and a cheese platter by our trailer.

The next day was an easy 3-hour drive to Glades Pike Winery, another Harvest Host. They had warned us in advance that we might have to move our rig due to an event there, but we were able to back our trailer into an unused level gravel parking area. The owner found that selling wine and food while musicians entertain people who could sit socially distanced was helping their business through the new normal Covid-19 times. We enjoyed an evening walk down the country road and a gorgeous sunrise in the morning. The next day we only had a short drive to Ohiopyle State Park, and were able to stop by Laurel Hill

State Park on the way where we parked the rig in the Beach parking area. This allowed us to hike the Copper Kettle Trail to the Hemlock Trail loop, an area of old growth hemlocks.

Our last 5-day stop was at the Kentuck Knob Campground in Ohiopyle State Park. Our Ginkgo Loop site was on the corner but we found that from our site we hardly noticed the campground road through the trees and foliage. We found Ohiopyle to be rather crowded but were able to escape the crowds on a few quiet hiking trails. One hike was over the Low Bridge to the Ferncliff Trail. Part of this trail was closed so we took a short detour along the Oakwoods trail. Another nice loop hike, the Meadow Run Trail, follows along a stream with many large boulders. One day we drove up to Laurel Summit State Park to explore the Spruce Flats Bog with its many pitcher plants. On the way back to camp, we planned to drive across the Lower Humbert Covered Bridge but with our bikes on the back of the truck, the height was close so we decided not to risk it. While in the area, we also visited the Flight 93 Memorial, which we found to be very interesting and well worth the trip. On the way, we came across another covered bridge, the Kings Bridge which we also stopped by to admire.

Bluegrass Rally

By Denny and Gayle Gibson

This years Bluegrass Rally at Laurel Hill State Park started off with a BANG!! – literally – a transformer blew up in the campground! Luckily, no injuries and the electric was up and running about five hours later.

We started off the festivities with a Happy Hour at the Field's Airstream. A dinner of walking tacos was supplied to us all by Doug and Cindy, and we thank them for their generosity! Most of us had not seen each other since before the Covid had us "grounded". It was great hearing how we all got through the rigidity of the quarantine and what everyone did to pass the time. Also some of us have been making plans for "snow-birding" and next year's travels.

The Bluegrass festival itself was canceled of course, due to Covid and government regulations. But, being Airstreamers, we prevailed! We played our bluegrass CD's all Friday evening while we ate grilled hamburgers and all the fixings. We welcomed our newest member, Maria Tobin, who just weeks ago purchased a Bambi. She actually traveled all of the way to Georgia to pick it up! You go girl! Another lovely couple and new Airstream owners, Erin and Chip Eckhard from central PA, also joined us. We discussed with them the benefits of joining Airstream Club International and also their local club unit (or Al-Mon-O – we would love to have them!)

On Saturday we awoke to a fairly steady rain. But Denny, Cody and Matt, were ahead of it and had set up two 10 X 20 tents, so we all ate our breakfast of French toast, eggs, bacon, yogurt and juice, without getting soaking wet. Around noon the weather cleared and we scattered to enjoy the beautiful Laurel Highlands area. Some went bicycling or kayaking. Others picked one of the many area trails to take a scenic walk, and some of us just took the afternoon to relax.

A ham barbeque sandwich was served for dinner and we wish to thank all who brought a delicious side dish to share with everyone. We all ate our fill – and still had room for ice cream! As the sun started to go down, Cody and Matt set up their projector and screen, (Thank you guys!), and we all watched the movie, "RV" with Robin Williams. It was a great way to spend time with our friends.

On Sunday, we all said our goodbyes around a continental breakfast. It had been a wonderful weekend – even with the rain! We wish to thank everyone who participated and look forward to getting together again soon. See you down the road!

One reason we chose to visit Ohiopyle, was that Lia had signed up to visit Fallingwater with a small group of Pittsburgh Watercolor Society members, to photograph and paint in plein air. It seems that no matter what area we visit there are always more things to do and see than we have time for, but we are looking forward to continuing to explore Pennsylvania State Parks.
