Dr. Joe Carlyle Smith's sculptures have been an attraction on the west side of Texas State Highway 21 in Caldwell for more than 30 years. It is just north of the railroad underpass at the corner of Stone Street and Texas 21 West. Although the sculpture garden beside the highway is more of an artist's studio than public park, Smith doesn't mind visitors stopping and getting a closer look. Other works by Smith can be seen in Caldwell at the McDonald's restaurant; the Civic Center, 103 Presidential Corridor; and at the Woodson Memorial Library, which once housed his medical office, at 704 TX 21. .
