President's Column

As we wound our way through the redwood forests of Northern California to the Fort Bragg rally, the world began to feel normal again. If only for a short time. Having been home so much, it was nice to see the rolling hills full of grape vines and small towns filled with farming activities. Seeing with our own eyes that much of life continues as usual, despite the virus, was uplifting.

Our Fort Bragg rally, the first since the various COVID restrictions, was very successful; a good start to our efforts to bring adventure back to our club and its members. All attendees of the rally were very aware of the state and local health orders and, in large part, followed them.

Happy-hour gatherings at campsites presented challenges as friends and drink occasionally led to larger-than-desired groups. Everyone seemed busy and active formulating their own plans that suited their needs and interests. Moving forward, I am confident we can recognize the challenges and successfully continue these rallies.

Carrie and I are currently visiting Eastern Oregon, hot but sparsely populated with wonderful geology and ghost towns. As I write, I am watching Osprey tending to their young in a nest across the Rogue River. We look forward to seeing you at the Redcrest rally in September or another future rally.

About Aluminum: Welding? Rivets? It appears Oxy-Fuel welding of Aluminum occurred back in WWI time period but was replaced by Gas Tungsten Arc Welding in WWII time frame. Also known as TIG welding. I find this topic ripe for happy hour discussion. It is on par with batteries and tires as a confounding topic.

From The Editor

We not only survived our first official NorCal rally since COVID canceled our rallies, but we thoroughly enjoyed investigating the Fort Bragg area, which we had not visited in years. It was wonderful to get away to such a pretty location with cooler weather. And a bonus: Pomo RV Park provided cheap wood for campfires, along with fire pits with old washing machine drums that funneled smoke away from you. This was a special treat as usually, we must use our gas fire pit if we are to enjoy a campfire.

The above selfie was taken on the property of the Pacific Star Winery, about 12 miles north of Fort Bragg. It has one of the most breathtaking views of the California Coastline, overlooking the Ten Mile Beach Marine Conservation Area, a view that is on a par with Big Sur. And if you are in the area, do not miss The Mendocino Coast Botanical Garden, across Highway 1 from Pomo RV Park. The gardens and entire property were stunning, well worth the price of admission.

So great to visit with club members again, but honestly, meeting and greeting, both for those who know one another, and those who do not, is more of an effort now. The "rolling happy hour" was one way to cope; wandering around the Park, meeting members by their Airstreams, briefly sitting and chatting before moving on. This was a fun way to meet with different club members outside of regular dinner-table companions or circle of friends.

Others formed larger social circles outside their Airstreams that people could visit as they liked. The choice was yours based on your comfort level. Most people shared what activities they had done with one another, so others could follow in their footsteps later in the week. The write-up on the rally begins on pg. 10, with plenty of photos to follow.

On pg. 7 this month we profile two more Officers: Carrie Bell, our Secretary, and Billie Verdegaal, a first-year Trustee. On pg. 14, we meet at-large WBBCI members who attended the Fort Bragg rally. There is the Summary and Coupon for the November Rally in Pismo Beach, one of my favorite areas, on pgs. 3 and 4. Note that membership renewal time has begun - with instructions on pg. 8.

Thanks to everyone who has offered kind words about The Poppy. I really do appreciate them. But honestly, the Poppy is interesting because others contribute various stories about themselves, what they are doing, or about their Airstream or Airstreaming.

On that note, I have been told that posing in front of a mural or statue with wings is a "thing" in the world of Instagram, Pinterest, and Flickr. (Search for "posing with wings.") Even the Duchess of Cornwall has done it. <https://livingbrick.co.uk/news/camilla-duchess-of-cornwall-poses-in-front-of-liverpools-famous-liver-bird-wings/> After I was informed about the phenomena by a NorCal member, I learned I had missed my chance when an outdoor sculpture exhibit left town. But some NorCalers have seized the opportunity to get their wings. Next month I will print the photos, but before I do, I am inviting any member who would like to submit a photo of themselves with wings to send them to ungerman72@gmail.com. Let's see how many we can get!

November 4 - 8, 2020

Join us for a relaxing rally at the Pismo Coast Village Resort in Pismo Beach this November. With any luck, the weather should be perfect that time of year. The resort is conveniently located steps from the beach, and a pleasant walk across a pedestrian bridge into the heart of town of Pismo Beach. The resort is well maintained, and there are grassy areas at most sites to set up chairs for physical-distance-visiting or just relaxing.

When you walk into town, the Splash Cafe is immediately in front of you and features casual meals of fish and chips, clam chowder, and other great beach fare. There are numerous restaurants in town offering a wide variety of foods, and of course, lots of beach shops featuring T-shirts, flip flops and everything else you might need for a stay at the beach.

You won't be obligated to go to Doc Bernstein's Ice Cream Factory to get the best ice cream on the west coast, but we highly recommend it! It's just a short drive from the RV park. Also not to be missed is a visit to the Old West Cinnamon Roll shop at the north end of Pismo. (We didn't promise this would be a low calorie rally!)

Pismo Beach is located on the Central Coast, close to San Luis Obispo, Morro Bay, and Avila Beach. Kayaks are available to rent at Morro Bay and it's great fun to spend a day viewing the birds and wildlife on the water. The motto of the Morro Bay Navy is "Never sail in water too deep to stand up in." The depth of the bay can be just a few inches at low tide! San Luis Obispo is home to Cal Poly, so it's a fun college town to explore. Avila Beach has an interesting history. Several years ago the entire downtown was moved offsite, all the contaminated soil underneath the town was removed and replaced, and the town was rebuilt. Now it is a fun beach town to visit once again.

Because of the pandemic, there will be no happy-hour gatherings, group meals, or group functions at this rally. You will be on your own. Social distancing of 6 feet when outdoors should be observed. We will not have use of the club room. Masks or face coverings are required in public inside places or outdoors when 6 feet social distancing is not possible.

Carmen and Jose Ortiz will be available to lead a bicycle ride or two if people are interested, so bring your bikes! This will be a safe way to have fun and social distance at the same time.

If you are feeling ill, please stay home. We want everyone in our club to stay healthy! Otherwise, be sure to join us for a fabulous rally on California's Central Coast!

Meet NorCal's Secretary: Carrie Bell

I can claim to be mid-century modern and a native Californian, being born and raised in Southern California from the mid-fifties. Growing up, I played/studied the violin and piano from about the age of 9, finally entering college as a music major. However, a violent change in course occurred when, to avoid taking those "hard" math classes and other "hard" sciences for general ed, and because it sounded interesting, I took a geology class. Well, I wasn't so savvy after all, because I changed my major to geology and had to take almost every undergraduate math, physics, and other science classes up to grad-level P-Chem class. Another case of being told as a youngster and thinking "you are not good at math" debunked.

Plus, a silver lining, dare I say a completely bejeweled lining: while taking the previously dreaded physics class, I met the love of my life and the best life partner I could imagine: Ray. We both graduated from San Diego State University, and went to University of Arizona for graduate school. While there, we married and I had our first child, Sarah (now 36).

Nearing the end of our work in Tucson, Ray and I began looking for career jobs and decided to relocate to wherever the first of us found work. Ray had easy success and we landed in the Bay Area. A few years later we had our second child, Walter (now 30).

I worked for a short while for the CA Dept of Forestry on the Dutch Elm Disease project, with much volunteering at the kids' schools. Being a Girl Scout leader for 10 years and very involved with our son's Boy Scout troop was incredibly rewarding and a jolly good time. Seeing those young'uns gain skills, confidence, and maturity was so blissful.

Then, with some additional education and great contacts in Silicon Valley, I was able to build an accounting/business (Continued Pg. 8)

Meet Another Trustee: Billie Verdegaaal

I enjoy being outside, whether walking our dog, gardening, working on our almond farm or playing with the grandchildren. I actually like pulling weeds and tending to our yard, but no, I won't come and do your yard work.

Dead-heading my roses or trimming shrubs is my therapy; it recharges me and gives me peace. When we are not out traveling in our Airstream you can usually find Bob, me, and our dog, Dumas, out in the morning hours checking on the almond orchard. Most evenings we sit in front of the shop and watch the grandchildren ride their trikes and play.

Being raised in the small farming community of Firebaugh, CA, I have lived and worked on a farm all my life. I graduated from Fresno State with a degree in Ag business and worked as an entomologist and chemical salesperson. Bob and I met at a Fresno State homecoming game/dance and I knew then he was my forever guy. We married in 1981 and raised our son and two daughters on the farm where Bob grew up. Now four of our six grandchildren live in the house where Bob was raised. Our son is taking over the farming operation - a fourth generation almond farmer.

I had always wanted to be a teacher, so, while raising three babies I took classes in the evenings while Bob tended the little ones. When the youngest started kindergarten I began my teaching career, retiring after 27 years in the classroom. (Continued Pg. 8)

At first, Bob and I didn't know if we really wanted a travel trailer. We went back and forth about the cost, and how much would we really use one. Bob found a place that rented Airstreams. We rented one in October 2016 and were sold! We returned the rental on Sunday, and on Monday purchased our Airstream (2017 25' Flying Cloud FB) from Toscano RV in Los Banos and have not regretted it one bit. We love traveling to new places and seeing our beautiful country! Joining NorCal Airstream Club was the best decision we made as we have met so many friendly people and made great friends.

Even though we have been staying on the ranch and not traveling due to COVID, I feel blessed that we have our health, each other, family and friends. What else can one ask for? We are soooo looking forward to the Oregon Coast Caravan and being with some of our Airstream buddies again!

consulting practice that continues beyond my retirement; after my 25-plus years of proprietorship, our daughter took it over last year.

Throughout my life, I have had a love of travel, adventure, the natural world around us, and experiencing other ways of living, all of which leads naturally to Airstream travel. I love our Airstream travel because it speaks to so much of what brings me joy, not the least of which is meeting and knowing our fellow Airstream travelers!

Carrie Bell

Ed Addendum: The Bell's Airstream, pictured on page 1, is a 2014 25 ft International Onyx from a dealer in the LA area. They found it online. Onyxes were a special edition and rare - only 132 were made, all during 2014.

Cerro Gordo Update

In the last issue of The Poppy we mentioned the small ghost town of Cerro Gordo, including the American Hotel that was built in 1871. We are sad to report that about two weeks after we visited, the American Hotel and two nearby structures caught fire and quickly burned, leaving nothing but cinders and ash, and the skeleton of the restaurant's cast iron stove. Safely Streaming through the Fog

Our timing of this rally was perfect to escape the California valley heat and cool down in Fort Bragg. There was plenty of safe 'Streaming, especially since no fog was in sight while we were there. Each morning the temp was a cool 55 degrees, the sky a clear blue, with no wind. Afternoon highs were about 65 degrees and a mild breeze. In short: awesome!

Thirty-one Airstreams were in attendance, spread throughout the Pomo Campground with its large, comfortable sites.

I'm very proud of our members for being generally respectful and compliant with applicable laws and safety recommendations! The pictures show lots of masked people – can you identify them? (See more on the following pages)

In their rally bags, attendees each received bookmarks (Ed note: handmade by Juliet Scheuer), hand sanitizer, and a "Campsite Quiz," designed to encourage attendees to meet new members and help them feel welcome by at least introducing themselves. (Juliet says she walked 10,000 steps delivering the rally bags!) Congratulations to Marget Williams and Shirley Bollinger for getting perfect scores on the Quiz and winning the contest.

Marget Williams displays her First Place prize for her perfect score in the quiz and for turning her winning entry in first

Shirley Bollinger shows her Second Place prize while Johnnie Lopez looks on

The rally was held completely outdoors at individual campsites. Even the Board Meeting was conducted with safety in mind.

While rallying, many people chose to remain safely in their group of two, but a few people gathered in small numbers, generally with plenty of outdoor distancing. No meals, happy-hour gatherings or tours were planned. But that did not stop NorCalers from having fun.

Members visited many of the local attractions, one of the most popular being the Mendocino Coast Botanical Gardens; a must-see location, with spectacular ocean views and amazing dahlias.

The Scheuers enjoying Mendocino Botanical Garden

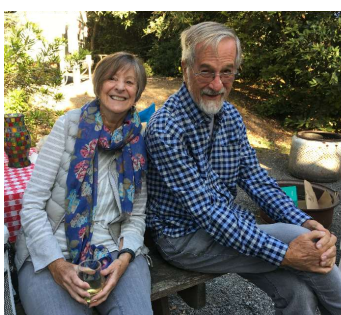

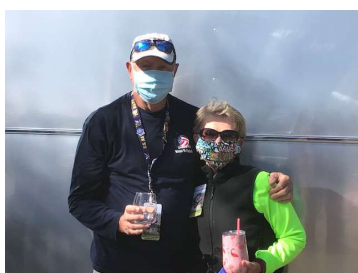

Another popular activity was the seven mile round trip hike in Jug Handle State Park where we visited and learned about a Pygmy Forest. Very interesting. (Hardy hikers also visited Russian Gulch to see the waterfall - an 8 mile roundtrip trek.)

Other activities are shown on the following pages. Mendocino County was enforcing strict safety rules so many restaurants were closed or only open for take-out food. A few people found restaurants with outdoor seating, such as the North Coast Brewery or those on the Noyo River. (Juliet and I admit to indulging in a take-out pizza to enjoy back in the Airstream.)

Meet WBCCI Members at Large: Steve and Terri Holifield

Steve & Terri Holifield have been married for nearly 36 years, have 3 adult children and one grandson born in March, 2020. They both grew up in Sacramento, California, and have been living and working in Sonoma for 22 years. Steve is an Endodontist and Terri is an interior designer and artist.

From the age of three, Steve RVed with his family all across the United States. In 1979, he took his first Airstream trip with his parents in their Bambi trailer. The destination? Alaska!

In 1995, Steve and Terri bought their first Airstream, a 1983, 27ft. Excella, and moved their family across the country to Boston, MA. They enjoyed six weeks of travel and living in the trailer with their family. They also enjoyed many East Coast trips during their three year stay in Massachusetts.

After exploring the possibility of remodeling the Excella into their "empty nest" trailer, Steve and Terri decided to purchase a newer, more modern, 27ft. Tommy Bahama model. They have owned the 2017 trailer for 2 years, and have traveled to Oregon, Olympic National Park, the San Juan Islands, Victoria, BC, The Grand Canyon, Yosemite and Tuolumne Meadows, Lake Tahoe, the High Sierras, Palm Springs, the North Coast and one of their favorites, Sonora Pass this past June (where their photo was taken.) They have also enjoyed exploring Harvest Hosts along the way.

They attended the Fort Bragg Rally (their first NorCal rally) and enjoyed meeting many people as well as seeing so many Airstreams in one location. "Pretty cool" said Terry. Evidently not shy, they jumped right into the Campsite Quiz, which was a real challenge for them since they did not know anyone and people were moved around from the original list. Nonetheless they won Third Place for their efforts and "fun prizes." (Ed note: Maybe they will join Norcal...hint hint...)

"We look forward to more outings with the NorCal Airstream group, and can't wait for the Rose Parade 2022!"
