"to place the great wide world at your doorstep for you who yearn to travel with all the comforts of home."
.....Wally Byam Creed

Allana Patterson Editor

I am getting around great and ready to get on my Bicycle at the Oklahoma Rally-van!

I will be sending out an invite to the entire membership for our October 10 monthly meeting. There is a lot that Steve wants to discuss, so please join us on ZOOM. Tom and I made a weekend trip to a new "Airstream only" RV park in Bristol (Ennis), TX.-- The Range Vintage Trailer Resort <https://therangevtr.com>. They do charge resort prices, but are very helpful and have really done the place up right! The wi-fi is great. We had a wonderful weekend, with perfect fall weather. Believe it or not, Bristol has a quick shop with a Sushi restaurant. We had fresh sushi for lunch! We even went to Ennis (8 mi) to the drive-in movies!

I can't wait for the wonderful caravan in mid-October. I am including the same information pages as last newsletter. There is room for you to join us! I make a mean margarita!

Hope to see you on the road or on ZOOM, October 10, 11:30. Be safe, be tolerant, be kind. allanapat@msn.com

Tom and Jaqueline Carney from Southlake

Joined in September:

David and Felicia Lance from Fort Worth

Ann and Trae Hill from Garland

Kyle Reed from McKinney

Gary and Patricia Burke from Oregon but soon to be Hillsboro, NTAC

SPOTLIGHT ON NEW MEMBERS:

What does a Classic Airstream Camper, a cat, and college have in common? By newbies: Jaqueline and Tom Carney (written by Jacqueline)

...A 4,000 mile 23 day round-trip adventure to the east coast. It started this summer- our son would be starting college at the University of Vermont in August and students had to quarantine before arriving on campus. Well, this was all I needed to convince my husband, Tom, that we should visit our DFW airstream dealer. After months in quarantine and both of us working from home, the travel bug was biting.

Pre-COVID, Tom and I had visions of a fair amount of travel this fall since we would be empty nesters with our two sons in college.

We've always enjoyed traveling, but due to our work schedules, we typically flew to our destinations.

After buying our 30' Classic and a Ford F-250 (after all, our little cars wouldn't do the job of towing), we crammed for our big adventure. We read, watched YouTube videos, practiced in our driveway, and stocked the airstream with enough food and supplies for 2 weeks.

On August 14th, we started our big adventure- with our son's cat. She loved the airstream and told us so by meowing for an hour at the beginning of each travel day. She added more work to the day- we couldn't open the door without checking that someone was watching the cat; she wanted to go outside but not with her GPS collar, harness and leash... so one day she made an escape up a 20' cliff. Our son had broken his elbow 2 weeks before our trip, but that didn't stop him from scrambling to the top of the cliff to rescue her. Whew, that was a close call. The cat will be disappointed, but she won't be joining us on our next trip. When we have the airstream in our driveway, she can't wait to jump inside- but that will be the extent of her future trips in the airstream.

What did our 4,000 mile trip give us that our intended trip to Europe couldn't?

We earned this trip- this trip was hard work. We had to learn so much just to leave our driveway. This trip was a joint effort, Tom and I worked together to learn about safety, maintenance and comfort. As we drove across America, we saw the changing geography. We drove through the Adirondacks and couldn't believe the hills and density of the trees, we saw the clouds below the Blue Ridge Mountains, the swift running water of the Shenandoah River, we saw the oldest Inn in America in the quaintest town in the Hudson River Valley, and we enjoyed the stunning sunsets over Lake Champlain in VT.

We saw stars at 4 am in Luray VA (okay, we were up at 4 am because I heard water dripping outside the airstream).

What were our frustrations? The internet. We traveled for 23 days and had to work during most non-driving days (Tom more than me). We had poor cell coverage in lots of locations. but fortunately, we won't have to worry about internet service on our next trip - the NTU Chickasaw National Rec Area where we will enjoy the shorter drive and we'll only stay for the weekend.

What made our trip easier? The tow package on our truck, weight distribution/anti-sway hitch, our 'Voyager' backup camera, the tire pressure monitor, staying at RV parks with 50 amps and water (until we're brave enough to boondock), only driving between 9 am and arriving at our RV park well before dusk, monitoring our truck's fuel levels, and prepping food before our trip. Note to self: fridge doesn't work well when you leave Texas in 106 degree heat.

Through our 31 years of marriage, I've suggested we live on a houseboat, buy a sailboat, etc... Tom has never taken the bait, so when he said 'maybe' to an airstream, I jumped on it. Maybe it was COVID weariness and I caught him in a weak moment, but I can say that we have both embraced the airstream travel lifestyle. We look forward to meeting everyone at our NTU Rallies.

- If you want to volunteer or nominate someone for one of the vacant positions on the NTU slate of officers, contact Greg Walker, grwalk@swbell.net, 254.005.5850

From the President

swood24078@aol.com

We are going to try to have monthly meetings beginning in October with the ZOOM meeting.

We want to invite our members to nominate or self-nominate for officer positions. We are looking to fill the rest of our Unit Officers for the coming year 2020-2021 under our President Gary Copeland. At the moment, our Vice President office is open, as well as our Secretary position, and we are looking for someone to take over the website. Our nomination chair is Greg Walker, grwalk@swbell.net

New officers will be installed at our installation rally, held November 20-22 at Oakdale RV Park in Glen Rose. The park has blocked off an area for us to be together, as well as given us the use of the Exterior Pavilion and other amenities.

Hope to see you at the events. Stay safe. Stay smart. See you down the Road.
