St. Patrick's Day Rally by Diane Hancock

This year, the Las Vegas Airstream Club enjoyed our annual rally in Paso Robles, California. Members arrived on different days that encompassed the rally, and it was exciting waiting for the arrivals of our members. There were eight rigs for our rally, including previous members Ted Nolan and his wife, Laura. Linda and Doug White joined us for their first rally with the group. Woohoo! A few Airstream stragglers joined in our rally spaces. As Airstreamers do, they were invited over for socializing and happy hour.

Members were free to choose their daily adventures of exploring the beautiful area of Paso Robles. Wine tasting occupied many of the days. We had a couple of days where most of us had lunch together, enjoying the area's scenery. The weather was enjoyable for the week. Sitting by the fire most nights and listening to each person's adventures is always fun. I enjoyed the rain one night when the baby frogs came out to play, and the dogs thought they had a new toy.

We had our traditional St Patrick's meal together. Pam and Dennis Pall from GLACC and new affiliate members to our club, joined us for dinner. Can you guess what we had for dinner? That's right, Corned Beef with all the fixings. There was so much yummy food. Pam brought a dessert called "Sex on the beach" that was delicious and led to some laughter and jokes. Linda White made a traditional and scrumptious Irish apple cake for dessert. The Mussers' cooked up bread pudding with Chantilly whipped cream.

With so many things to do, plus tasting wine in Paso, I am looking at other RV places to stay for future rallies. I would love to hear where your favorite places are to rest your head while in your Airstream. Please let me know.

A huge thank you to the Mussers and the Mellingtons for helping to cook the corned beef and veggies, running errands, and being fabulous co-hosts. We have a great group who work together as a team. See you all down the road, and safe travels.

PAHRUMP LAKESIDE RALLY

by Jo Salzer

November 4 & 5, 2022

This is a gentle reminder about the November rally at Lakeside Casino & RV Park just over to Hump to Pahrump. Please make your reservations as soon as possible, as this is a popular RV park and fills up quickly during the winter months.

Lakeside is a Good Sam Club 10/10* resort with beautiful grounds and spacious sites. There will be a small rally fee.

Ade and I have booked the Boat House for those dates and we want to have a Pot Luck Dinner there on Friday November 4th.

On Saturday Nov. 5 the Desert Cane Distillery is having their annual Harvest event. We are all invited to go out to their farm on Calzada Blvd. in Pahrump and try our hand at cutting sugar cane. They grow the cane used in their delicious rums. It's all a family affair. Rum punch and machetes might be a dangerous combination, but owners Tom & Debbie say it works out just fine. We can stay for an hour or all day. Nibbles will be served.

Saturday is also the local Farmers Market Day and the produce offered for sale is so fresh. All of it grown locally. Pahrump is a surprising place. There is a lot to do in this desert oasis. There are two good wineries, a Meadery, restaurants, museums, nearby Death Valley National Park, and several State and National reserves.

We will gather Saturday evening for Happy Hour at the Boat House.

Sunday morning it's time for breakfast. Our committee will pull together a yummy hot breakfast at the Boat House before we all hook up and head home.

Bookings are to be made online at Lakeside RV. There are a few RV parks named Lakeside, so please you use this website <https://www.goldencasinogroup.com/rv-park> to ensure you have reservations at the correct park. Once you've secured your site please let me know. I will send the information to the RV Park manager and she will attempt to get us close together. We've not done this before and they do not set aside group sites. We can make this work.

Kitchen Hacks

By Lin Stahlhut

Here are some cooking ideas for when you are out in your Airstream.

When you are traveling with fresh eggs it works best to use a paper carton rather than a plastic carton. The plastic carton dents as it slides around or bounces in your refrigerator and the eggs can crack more easily.

When I poach eggs in the morning, I use a small pan of water. I put the egg in a small silicone cup and then poach it in boiling water. When I have finished breakfast, I use the hot water to wash my dishes, thus conserving water.

A very tasty way to have eggs on a camping trip is to cook ‘omelets’ in a plastic baggies. Break the egg or eggs into the bag, add a teaspoon of water per egg and other ingredients (cheese, chopped onions, bacon bits, green pepper, chopped tomatoes etc.) to make your “omelet”. Seal the bag and then squish all the ingredients together. Cook the egg mixture in boiling water for about 10 minutes. Use thongs to take the bag out of the water, open the bag and slide the egg onto a plate. You can add salt and pepper and salsa to taste. You can do this at home too!

A good way to store bacon is to roll each slice of bacon into a roll and then freeze these bacon rolls in a plastic baggie. Remember to mark the date on the bag to minimize the chance of them hanging around forever in your freezer! When you want to cook bacon, take out just the number of rolls (slices) of bacon that you need. You can let them thaw out by letting them warm up to room temperature or zap them in the microwave just long enough to unroll the bacon slice rolls. Then cook the bacon as you wish.

For those of you who have a sliding pantry compartment in your Airstream you may have encountered a problem keeping things from moving around and bouncing out of the wire baskets. I use small plastic baskets/containers so that items don’t sit directly on the slide-out’s wire baskets. This seems to help prevent some of the unwanted bouncing.

It's possible to buy a small cast iron griddle that fits on top of the two rear burners on the RV’s gas stove. This can be used for pancakes, eggs, sandwiches, etc. It gives you more cooking space than a single pan, it’s easy to clean and doesn’t take up a lot of storage space.
