President's Message

The Athens Old Time Fiddlers National Event held in Athens, Alabama, was a huge success thanks to Russ Pry, his wife PJ, and the volunteers. And the weather was absolutely perfect.

The week started off with a spaghetti dinner hosted by the American Vietnam Veterans, then, off we went for a ghost tour in a horse-drawn wagon. The next day, Doc Bloom, treated everyone to a delicious Dutch Oven breakfast. There were several tours that took place throughout the week. Some of the tours included, Associated Growers Co-Op, Joe Wheeler Lake Scenic Cruise, and a Goat Cheese factory. One night, the Great American RV sponsored a cook-out for us with the Disabled American Veterans doing the grilling. Afterwards, we had a private jam session with our very own talented musicians, followed by an ice cream social.

For the ladies, there were plenty of shopping opportunities in the beautiful historical downtown area, church bazaars, and yard sales were being held all over the city. On our last day, we enjoyed breakfast provided by the American Veterans at the first-class Military Museum.

The Athens Old Time Fiddlers Association brought in some top-notch entertainers. At the concert main stage were, Darin and Brooke Aldridge, The Balsam Range, and the last night, Rhonda Vincent & the Rage, not to forget all the good jam sessions that took place all around the campus of Athens University.

Comments made by those who attended the Rally:

“Just wanted to let you know that the Fiddler’s rally was our first- time rally with the Alabama unit. All members made us feel very welcome. We had lot of fun and the head liners who performed were some of the best.”

“We had a wonderful time. This rally was great. I will recommend it to anyone. The Alabama Unit was very hospitable and the communication to prepare for the rally was excellent.”

“I wanted to thank you for a most pleasant experience we had with your great group of Streamers. We were blown away with the organization, site setup, the tours, the meals, and most important friendship that was shared with us.”
