Messages within a computer user's group should utilize e-mail whenever possible. Materials that must be sent to each participant prior to the rally should also be sent using e-mail where possible. The reimbursement for these expenses should be for budgeted items only and are limited to the amount in the approved budget. Each refund request shall be approved by the Rally Chair for receipted expenses only and directly related to the budget/materials provided to each rally attendee. (No WBCCI Club member should be paid, or even a hint of being paid, for services rendered in the support of a WBCCI rally or event. It is the Club's and the Region's policy that we are all volunteers and that we serve without financial compensation.)

5. At the time the caravan is formed, specific provisions should be established regarding the disposition of any surplus monies remaining after all caravan costs are paid. Generally, such surplus is refunded on a proportional basis to members of the caravan. A similar agreement is needed to deal with a caravan deficit.

These monies will be sent to the Region 9 Treasurer for deposit in the Region's Caravan Contingency Fund. The goal amount of this contingency fund is established in Article 11, Section 3, and Region Treasurer and Region Funds Paragraph 7b. Each caravan's budget should show how many units it takes to be successful.
