December 2024

December's Christmas Rally at Huntington Beach State Park was an absolute success! We really did miss those that couldn't make it to the rally. Some of us woke up Saturday morning to frozen water hoses. Since we are talking cold weather, let's start out with a big shout out to Billy and Jack who we witnessed making daily trips to the store to buy firewood to keep those Solo stoves running through the weekend.

As usually the food was off the chart, we all need to fast the week before our rallies just to break even on our carbs & calories. Thursday evening, we had soup and sandwiches (hosted by the Porters and friends). Then Friday some piled into a vehicle and headed to Hemingway for a going out of business sale at the Tupperware Store. You should have seen the ladies getting out of the car with large bags of Tupperware, it reminded you of clown 🤡 car at the circus. Some of the men started the friendly trash talk before the cornhole boards were set up. We had a good time and had some close games. Too bad Steve decided Sandy needed another "walk on the beach" after all the cornhole trash talk! That evening we had Jing's authentic Chinese food with chopsticks if you accepted the challenge. (this meal always steals the show)

Then Saturday morning event started at 9:30 at the state park pavilion with propane heaters. We enjoyed fruit, numerous breakfast casseroles, bread, cinnamon rolls, and scones. We then rolled into our annual business meeting that went off without any drama. Shortly after the meeting some walked to the arts and crafts show being held in the state park while others went to play pickleball. I believe Marti has gotten Larry and Steve hooked, they took to it like fish to water. Who knew Larry was so competitive and Steve had such a great backhand! Our very own musical trio of Kathy, Larry and Marti lead us all in Christmas caroling. (we all had some great laughs)

The Blackwell's along with the Ross's (with friends) worked on one hell of a good Christmas meal with wonderfully prepared turkey and ham as the main course with pans of sides that never stopped. The appetizers and desserts every night were disgustingly GOOD. It was naturally a perfect weekend due to everyone's participation.

Did anyone notice the beautiful black Ponies that made a guest appearance Saturday evening? Eli and Etta
