President's Letter

November 2025

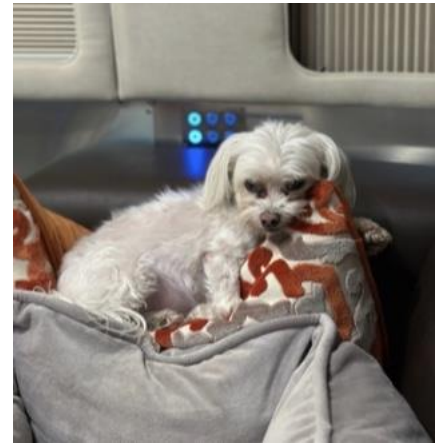

By Jill Rabb

Hello Everyone!

Alan and I are currently at the Peanut Festival in Dothan, Alabama, right in the middle of the Florida/Georgia showdown! We're here with 20 other Airstreams, eagerly awaiting the game this afternoon. It's been a great time so far, and we're soaking in the excitement.

I hope everyone is enjoying the cooler weather and starting to get into the holiday spirit. It's that time of year!

On a more personal note, I wanted to share that our beloved Maltese, Bogey, who was featured in the newsletter a couple of months ago, passed away at the beginning of October. He peacefully passed in my arms. He lived a full life, loved to travel, and was always the best companion to his sister, Bella. We miss him dearly, but take comfort knowing he's in a better place.

On a happier note, I have some exciting news to share—our youngest son Spencer is engaged! He proposed to the lovely Amy on a trail in Asheville, NC, and we couldn't be more thrilled. We're so excited to welcome Amy into the family as our newest daughter-in-law!

Wishing everyone a wonderful fall season ahead.

Enjoy the journey and be kind to each other.

Jill

Ned sent in some great photos of his dad and their Airstream. Check out that awesome TV and those strap on mirrors!

ALLEN "RED" WEBB - ON THE ROAD MARCH 1978

I remember when our family jumped straight from years of tent camping into the world of Airstreams. If you were watching the highways 50 or 60 years ago, you might have seen our rig — BRN 13486 — behind Allen (my dad) Webb's Buick station wagon, CB handle KOM1081.

Sometimes three other station wagons, all pulling Airstreams, followed close behind. The families from our church often joined Dad's caravans to fishing holes, scenic spots across the Southeast, and even up the Alaskan Highway — back before it was paved!

Dad was always the driver, and Mom (Lillian) did her best to keep the kids wrangled in the back seat. As the youngest, I was eager to help — setting up camp, hooking and unhooking, and rubbing Watco oil on those beautiful wood cabinets.

Today, the station wagon's an SUV, and while our Globetrotter isn't the International of the '60s, Jill and I still honor that legacy. BRN 13486 rolls on — living riveted.

Dutch Oven Campfire Nachos

Ingredients

- 1 bag of tortilla chips (10-15 oz bag)
- 12 oz sharp cheddar cheese (shredded)
- 1 15 oz can black beans, drained
- 1 2 oz can sliced black olives (optional)

Topping Ideas:

- tomato (diced)
- avocado (diced)
- cilantro (chopped)
- green onion (chopped)
- salsa
- sour cream

Instructions

- Get a campfire going and let it burn down for about 10 minutes, or until you have some coals in the fire.
- In the dutch oven layer chips, cheese, beans, and olives: Spread a layer of chips on the bottom of the cast iron. Top with 1/3 of the shredded cheese and a couple of spoonfuls of the drained beans and olives (if using). Repeat this layering at least 2 more times. If using a 4 Qt. cast iron, you can fit about 3 layers.
- Put the lid on the dutch oven and place it near (but not on) the fire. Carefully put 1-2 coals under the dutch oven, and 4-5 coals on the lid. See the video for a demonstration.
- After 10 minutes, carefully use a fire glove or lid lifter to check on the nachos. The cheese should be melted. If not, add fresh coals to the lid and wait a few more minutes before checking again.
- Once the cheese has melted, remove the dutch oven from the fire pit and carefully add your toppings. Serve immediately.

Polar Bears & Northern Lights Caravan

Alan & Sherry Johnson

September 14-October 14, 2025

Our group of 20 Airstreams started out in Carberry, Manitoba on a potato farm! A multi-million dollar 20,000 acre farm whose potatoes become McDonald french fries.

We visited a canola farm that had a transplanter almost as wide as a football field.

We picnicked on a small farm with pigs, bison & chickens, riding in a cattle trailer to the bison field. Did you know that when a mother bison has twins, she doesn't understand and will leave one of them behind. This happened to this farmer, so he adopted the forgotten twin and now the baby bison follows him everywhere., and still does to this day (and is not a baby anymore). The farmer doesn't only raise bison, he has hogs, sows with lots of piglets, and closer to his house were his chickens, roosting in an old yellow school bus.

We visited a honey bee farm,
watched logs get made into planks,
enjoyed a homemade Ukrainian feast
while watching young people dance in colorful costumes.

We colored fresh eggs using the pysankarstvo method, hot wax.

In the evening, we retired back to the campground with a campfire,
music, and later on a clear night,
we feasted on the northern lights.

All this was before the grand finale of riding in a train overnight to Churchill, Polar Bear Capital of the World, and 850 year-round inhabitants. One can only get there by airplane or train. We spent two nights in a tundra hotel on wheels. They can't build on frozen ground, While we were there we hunted polar bears. Hungry polar bears migrate to Hudson Bay during the fall to hunt for seals. We saw two bears. One, we were able to track for 2 days.

After visiting all the polar bear and First Nation museums, we finished our Churchill excursion with a dog sled ride called Ididamile. Afterwards we caught the overnight train back to civilization.

We finished our caravan in Winnipeg, Manitoba's capital, exploring all it had to offer, too numerous to list. We finished tired, but excited. Not only had we gotten to know Manitoba, but we had adopted a new family of fellow adventurers. We celebrated, exchanged personal information, and vowed that our paths would cross again.

This one is definitely one for the bucket list.

If you have any questions,
don't hesitate to give us a call.

Alan & Sherry Johnson
