

Centramatic Wheel Balancers

Several months ago I shared some comments from a Dexter Field Representative concerning the use of Centramatic Wheel Balancers with Nev-R-Lube bearings. Dexter's concerns were that the bearings worked best with zero off set rims and use of the wheel balancers would change the zero off set and could affect the bearings.

This raised some questions from the manufacturer of the wheel balancers that there would not be any issue with using the balancers with Nev-R-Lube bearings. I contacted Dexter and they indicated that until testing has been performed they can or cannot recommend the use of the wheel balancers with their Nev-R-Lube bearings. They are not saying that the wheel balancers are a bad product, just a product that has yet to be tested by Dexter.
